

Didier Alberto Tavera

Gouverneur de Santander

Why you should listen :

Didier Tavera was born on August 17th, 1976 in Güepsa- Santander.

He has always lived between the city and the countryside; therefore he had a real concern and interest about rural issues.

Mr. Tavera attended middle school in Güepsa, and afterwards he moved to Bucaramanga and finished High School and he started his bachelor in Law at Santo Tomas University.

Years later he finished his postgraduate studies in management of territorial entities from Universidad Externado de Colombia and he currently holds a Master in Direction and Management of the Social Security Systems by University of Alcalá de Henares - España in association with the Iberian American Social Security Organisation (OISS).

Currently, Mr. Tavera is the governor of the Department of Santander.

He leads a new style of politics based on a search for the common good and on widening participation in government at every level.

The formulation of the Santander's Development Plan for the next four years has been his first accomplishment because it was built in record time at the national level, and has allowed more than 25,000 people to get involved in the process.

Finally, Mr. Tavera has set himself the goal of improving the quality of life of farmers, and reduces the gap between the urban and rural areas in the State.

Enlaces

[1] <https://www.facebook.com/didiertaveraamado2/>