

Henri Rouillé d'Orfeuil

Member of the Academy of Agriculture of France

Why you should listen :

Henri Rouille d'Orfeuil is agronomist with a doctorate in applied economics. He runs the "responsible and sustainable food" program of the French association Resolis. He is a member of the Academy of Agriculture of France. He also chairs the Institute of research and debate on governance (IRG). He worked in Agronomic Research (CIRAD), the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, as Deputy Director of International Cooperation and Development, the Delegation for Territorial Planning and Regional Development (DATAR), and the World Bank.

He was President of Coordination SUD- coordination of French NGOs, of Finansol- coordination of associations and institutions of French solidarity finance, vice-president of Global forum for agricultural research (GFAR). Author of a dozen books, including the last "Economy, the awakening of the citizens", he taught at several universities.

---